World Court Available To Nations For Legal Action

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth of six stories explaining the new league to keep peace—the United Nations—and how it will work.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Suppose a couple of the United Nations get into an argument over things like these: Fishing rights in nearby waters or the use of a river separating the two countries.

Who's right? Who's wrong? They can argue, but who's going to make the final decision?

To settle international legal disputes like those the United Nations has set up an international court of justice.

This country can make use of that court because it's a very important part of the United Nations' machinery to keep peace and the United States is a member of the United Nations.

We were not a member of the old League of Nations but we joined the world court in 1926 after an arrangement had been made to put us on a footing comparable to that of league members.

Scrap Old Court

That old court will be scrapped now. The new court will take its place. Both courts differ only in minor details. The new one, like the old, will have fifteen judges chosen from among the most distinguished jurists in the world. Their terms will be nine years each.

United Nations members don't have to lay their disputes before the court for settlement. They are under no compulsion to do so.

If two nations have a legal dispute and want to go to the court, they can do so. But if one wants to and the other doesn't, then the court does not get the case.

The court will decide on a dispute between nations only when the disputants agree to go there.

Some of the nations long before they even dream of a legal dispute with anyone will sign a declaration of their intention any time in the future to lay their legal disputes before the court.

Two Must File

When they do that, they must submit their problems to court jurisdiction. Again, however, it will depend on whether the other disputant in a case has signed such a declaration or agrees to go to court.

Suppose countries AAA and BBB agree to let the court decide their problem. The court decides against AAA. Country AAA then is supposed to abide by the verdict. But suppose it doesn't.

In that case country BBB can go to the Security Council—which may use the armed forces of the United Nations to keep peace—and ask that country AAA be forced to do what the court told it to do.

This is pretty thin and vague ground here. It is not clear what the Security Council could do. Maybe nothing, unless by refusing to obey the court country AAA is endangering peace in the world.

In that event the Security Council could crack down.

Ask Legal Advice

The court will serve another purpose. When it is trying to untangle some problem, the Security Council can ask the court for an advisory (Please Turn to Page 3)

Growers Agree Not To Sell Cherries For Home Canning

A special meeting of the Adams county cherry growers and fruit buyers at Biglerville high school, Thursday night acting upon urgent requests from the War Food Administration, resolved to reserve the entire cherry crop for commercial processing because cold weather damage and cherry leaf spot had reduced the crop to 35 per cent of normal and rendered the quality unsuitable for domestic processing and consumption.

The War Food Administration has asked all cherry growers to reserve their remaining crops for processing for the armed forces. In doing so Elmer P. Bostwick and E. A. Nahstoll, representing the War Food Administration, stressed the fact that "men in the service deserve all possible consideration," and that cherry pie is considered "one of the greatest morale builders among foods served to the armed forces overseas and in camps and stations in this country."

The assemblage presided over by John Peters, of Gardners, President of the Adams County Cherry Growers, agreed to discourage private buying at orchards and farms by individuals from neighboring cities.

A large group of representatives of the West Virginia cherry growers was present among the 40 growers and buyers who attended Thursday evening.

It was also pointed out that commercial processors have the facilities to utilize the whole crop for canning either as whole pitted fruit or juice, and that home facilities were not equipped to make use of the crop in its present condition.

FEW MOTORISTS HAVE SECURED CAR TAX STAMP

The post office is expected to do a land-office business on Saturday, the last day in which motorists have to purchase the $5 automobile use tax stamps. All automobiles must have the stamp on their windshields beginning July 1.

Thus far the local post office has sold less than 300 $5 stamps compared with 2,994 sold last year.

The law provides both cash and jail penalties for failure to pay the tax. To protect themselves against unnecessary penalties, Collector of Internal Revenue Francis R. Smith advises owners of motor vehicles not to be misled by false rumors alleging that this tax has been repealed. However, since these rumors have led motorists to believe that this year it would be unnecessary to purchase this stamp, Collector Smith states that penalties will not be invoked before July 11, this having the effect of a ten-day grace period. But, a concerted drive for delinquents will begin promptly on July 1.

Keep Serial Number

The stamps are being sold over the counter at all post offices and Offices of Internal Revenue Collectors. In addition, Collectors of Internal Revenue will fill mail orders when accompanied by cash, money order or certified checks. Personal checks cannot be accepted for the purchase of revenue stamps.

Motorists will find that the stamps usually stick better if they dampen the windshield instead of the stamp. They should avoid repeated dampening of the stamp. Motorists who desire to do so may reinforce the stamp with adhesive tape or similar aids.

To protect themselves against loss or theft, Collector Smith advises motorists to keep a separate record of the serial number which appears on each stamp. Motorists also are asked to write on the back of the stamp the make, model, serial number, and state license number of the vehicle.

Effect Junction

(Also pushing southwest on the north Borneo coast, the Australians were reported by the Melbourne radio to have made a junction with troops who landed last week at the Miri oilfield area in an amphibious jump. The Melbourne radio added that oil production had been resumed at Tarakan, an isle off the Borneo east coast which the Australians invaded on May 1. Extent of the production was not mentioned in the broadcast, recorded by the American broadcasting company.)

The Australians still had not met any formidable Japanese resistance on Borneo, whose oil riches would greatly lessen the strain on American trans-Pacific supply lines.

SEVERE STORM MISSES COUNTY

Gettysburg and most of Adams county escaped the severe electrical storm that struck eastern Pennsylvania early Thursday evening. The northern fringe of the county is reported to have had a "taste" of the storm but damage was inconsequential.

The mercury, despite the cool spell that swept this area for a time Thursday evening, registered a low of 67 last night and a high of 90 at noon today.

Damage In State Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—

Residents of eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Upper Delaware examined damage today following an intense electrical storm last night.

Lightning destroyed a number of barns and other structures, disrupted train schedules temporarily and caused an interruption in telephone, telegraph and electric service. Some crops were beaten to the ground.

For the second time in 33 years, Spies church, a Berks county landmark, was damaged by fire. The Rev. Calvin W. Humbert estimated damage from a blaze started by lightning at $50,000.

Total damage in the Reading area was estimated by city officials at $350,000. They reported a number of barns and homes were struck by lightning.

Loss in Lancaster county was set by officials at $20,000. Telephone communication was limited, but repairs were being made.

Begin Laying Of Pavement At Church

Work has begun on laying a new pavement on the Breckenridge and South Washington street sides of St. Paul's A.M.E. Zion church and is expected to be completed within the next two or three weeks according to the Rev. R. M. Everette, pastor.

During the evening service on Sunday, July 9, a special effort will be made to secure additional funds for the work.

The Rev. Mr. Everette today expressed his appreciation to all who have contributed and aided in securing funds for the work.

Jap Shipbuilding Ravaged By Raids; Fleet In Makassar

By SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, June 29 (AP)—An American fleet has returned to the Makassar straits east of Borneo for the first time since the forlorn days of January, 1942. Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today. The invasion-conscious Japanese reported a Naval bombardment of the Borneo east coast had been in progress for ten days.

A Dutch correspondent who flew over the port of Balikpapan, fronting on the straits, reported earlier this week seeing the warships in action, and the Japanese radio has claimed that Allied landing attempts there already have been beaten off.

MacArthur Silent

MacArthur gave no confirmation of any of these reports, but his communique on the southwest Pacific today did report the destruction of three Japanese torpedo planes on Monday by American surface ships in the Makassar straits and told of continuing Allied air blows throughout the East Indies, particularly at Balikpapan.

The ships involved undoubtedly belong to the U. S. Seventh fleet, which put ashore the Australian Ninth Division on British North Borneo and Labuna in the Brunei bay area on June 10.

The Australians last were reported to have taken Beaufort, in a 15-mile advance northeast up the Borneo coast along the narrow-gauge railway toward the Japanese base of Jesselton. Allied planes bomber Jesselton without opposition, and Allied torpedo boats shelled the Jesselton area from the sea.

Visual Bombing

The clouds required instrument bombing and obscured results at the big naval base of Sasebo and the big coaling port of Moji, both on northern Kyushu.

Half of the formation attacking Okayama, which has a military arsenal, a troop training center and plane parts factories, was able to bomb visually through a broken undercast.

The ground fire ranged from weak and moderate in most places to intense over Moji.

Chief among the targets at the B-29's raised the total of Japanese cities hit to 18 was Sasebo, with PT's shipbuilding and ship repair yards. Moji is the southern terminus of a tunnel under Shimonoseki strait, linking Honshu and Kyushu.

The fiery devastation wrought added to a total of 115 square miles already burned and bombed out of Japanese cities by the B-29's.

One Bomber Missing

One bomber of the fleet failed to return.

(Japanese broadcasts said the raiders also attacked the industrial city of Shimonoseki, on the southern tip of Honshu, and Kanoya, on southern Kyushu.)

(These reports said the fires were brought under control by "early morning," several hours after the American bombers turned for home base.)

The raids were announced by the 21st Bomber Command while fleet headquarters was disclosing new successes of search planes against supply shipping in enemy home waters. Eight vessels were sunk and eight more damaged Wednesday and Thursday between Japan and Korea by planes which have accounted for approximately 290,000 tons of shipping in recent weeks.

The B-29 crewmen observed the large fires at Nobokawa, port and chemical center on northeastern Kyushu, and at industrial Okayama on Honshu, 100 miles west of Osaka. Nobokawa's fires sent smoke up through the clouds.

SAYS RED TIDE IS EXPECTED TO EXPAND CLUTCH

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
War produces strange compromises and affiliations—as witness the Chinese mission which is reported to be on its way from Chungking to Moscow under the leadership of Premier T. V. Soong, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's brilliant brother-in-law (Harvard '15), who recently returned home from the San Francisco Security conference.

Like everything else oriental, there's considerable mystery attached to the Soong enterprise. However, it's clear enough that such a China-Russian meeting may prove to be of far-reaching international importance. It's easy to see that it could have a great bearing on Russia's post-war influence in Asia, and might strongly affect China's political future.

May Seek Red Pact
Be that as it may, speculation has it that Premier Soong may try to create a mutual aid pact which would bring Russia into the war against Japan. One also notes that Soong has been endeavoring to settle the dangerous and often bloody quarrel between Chiang Kai-shek's government and the great body of Chinese communists in northern China, and it's reasonable to assume that this will be a major item in the Moscow parley.

As previously reported in this column, when I was in Chungking in '43 impartial observers generally believed that the quarrel between the Chinese Reds and the Chiang government likely would be settled by civil war. Recently the situation seems to have eased somewhat as the result of negotiations and offers of reform by the central government. Still, it's less than four months ago that the Chinese communists were calling Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek a despot and were demanding his removal and punishment. Significantly at the same time the Moscow press was supporting these demands for "liquidation of the Kuomintang dictatorship" and creation of a coalition government.

Taken To Reds?
It's difficult to believe that Premier Soong could achieve agreement for Russian aid against Japan unless he provided assurances that Chinese communism would get its place in the sun. Such assurances would be a lever with which vast China and its five hundred millions of people could be turned topsy-turvy politically.

The millions of Chinese communists are in the northern part of the country near Russian territory. They have several numerically powerful armies in the field—ostensibly to fight the Japanese but also to keep a weather eye on Generalissimo Chiang's forces.

Suppose the Soviet union should decide to throw its aid to the Allies in the war against Japan, and should give help in the form of military supplies shipped across the border into China. Those supplies presumably go largely to the neighboring Chinese northern armies—which are the Red forces. Obviously this would place them in a powerful position for bargaining with Chiang Kai-shek. Obviously, too, this would enhance Russia's prestige in China.

Red Tide Expands
Of course all this is speculative, but whatever may come out of the Soong visit to Moscow, of this we may be sure: We soon shall see an expansion of Soviet influence in the orient. Just as the Red tide is moving across Europe, so it is going to reach out into China and other Asiatic countries. It's a geographical "natural."

That's not to suggest Russia is looking for territorial expansion. However, she may be expected to push her political influence, especially with countries lying on her borders.

Seek Two Men Who Passed Bad Checks

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—A widespread search was underway today for two men who have taken $3,000 from 27 storekeepers by passing forged and worthless checks.

Detective Sgt. Jacob Gomborow said a man who identified himself as Richard J. Owens, of Harrisburg, Pa., made the practice of entering a store in the afternoon, ordering a small amount of merchandise to be set aside and saying he would return to pay for it after getting his pay check.

His confederate, Gomborow said, then called at the store after banking hours, tendered the check, took the merchandise and left the store with his change in cash.

Gomborow said the checks appeared to be of the type made out on large war plant payroll accounting machines. They were issued by a non-existent Brazing and Welding Company, Pennsylvania Division, Harrisburg, were signed by an equally non-existent Samuel Cohen, treasurer, and were drawn on the First National Bank and Trust Company, of Harrisburg, which likewise does not exist.

MOVE PLANTS TO MANCHURIA

San Francisco, June 29 (AP)—Japan gave top priority today to transfer of its home industries to Manchuria, and turned nervous attention towards the Aleutians, where Tokyo radio said the United States was massing mountain-trained fighters and paratroopers.

The transfer of war industries to the Asia mainland was declared by Tokyo radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, to be even "more fundamental" than dispersion of industries in Japan to escape American air blows.

Tokyo said "a division composed solely of Alpine troops" was being stationed on Agattu island, in the outer Aleutians near Attu, and that paratroopers were being placed throughout the northern region.

The broadcast claimed that Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher's U. S. Ninth Fleet was awaiting an opportunity to strike from the north. A light unit of the fleet recently attacked a Japanese convoy in the sea of Okhotsk.

A Tokyo newspaper correspondent was quoted as saying the transfer of industries to Manchuria was an "attempt to establish securely a system for a protracted war, with Japan as a nucleus force."

CHINESE TAKE JAP AIRFIELD NEAR LIUCHOW

Chungking, June 29 (AP)—A Chinese Army spokesman announced today that Chinese troops had captured the main airfield in the southern suburbs of Liuchow which Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's 14th Air Force was forced to abandon to the Japanese last Nov. 7.

The spokesman said Chinese forces also had retaken the city's south railway station.

Pierce fighting was reported raging in the western and northwestern suburbs of Liuchow where other Chinese forces were battling their way toward the center of the important Kwangsi province city.

The spokesman said Liuchow had been burning since June 23 and that the core of the city was destroyed. He estimated that less than 1,000 Japanese remained in the city.

Close On Kweilin

Approximately 100 miles north-east of Liuchow Chinese forces were closing in on Kweilin, another former U. S. air base site. Dispatches from this front said one Chinese column was engaging Japanese troops at points 10 to 12 miles north of Kweilin and another was about 18 miles northwest of the city.

Between Liuchow and Kweilin a Japanese force was reported pocketed by two groups of Chinese, one of which had reached a point three miles north of Liuchow while the other was closing in from 15 miles further north.

The Chinese spokesman said all Japanese remnants west and south of Liuchow had been cleared out. This meant that virtually the whole Kweichow-Kwangsi railroad had reverted to Chinese control—the first railroad occupied partly or entirely by the enemy to be restored to the Chinese since the war began in July, 1937.

The line, however, needs repairs and rebuilding.

MORE STRIKES ARE BREWING

(By The Associated Press)
A new crop of disputes broke out on the nation's labor front and others were in the budding stage today, spilling an otherwise improved picture on the troubled labor scene.

More than 60,000 of the 93,000 workers idle yesterday by strikes and work stoppages, prepared to return to their jobs today, their controversies settled, at least temporarily.

Overshadowing the brighter side, however, were additional walkouts, boosting the idle up to the 40,000 mark, and threats of strikes by three railroads and at 18 Western Electric company plants.

The biggest improvement in labor conditions was in Detroit, where most of the city's 45,000 idle CIO United Automobile Workers were expected back on the job following settlement of an AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute.

Another 15,000 strikes in 10 glass plants in 10 cities agreed to end their week-old strike, bowing to a War Labor Board request to resume work. They included 8,000 at the Libbey-Owens-Ford company's four plants and 7,000 at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company's six plants.

A major disturbance loomed in the east as about 20,000 employees of 15 New Jersey and three New York city plants of the Western Electric company voted to strike. Of 27,000 eligible to vote, 16,941 balloted in favor of a strike and 3,039 against.

Electrocuted When Fan Falls Into Tub

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Cade, 36, apparently was electrocuted early today when a shell electric fan she was using to dry her hair fell from a shelf into the bathtub which she occupied, Coroner W. J. Rushong of Norristown reported.

Robert Cade said he found the body of his wife in the tub after he was awakened at 2 a. m. by the noise of running water, the coroner reported. Rushong said Cade told him that he and his wife had stayed up until midnight preparing for a birthday party today for their eight-year-old son and that he went to bed while Mrs. Cade was preparing to take a bath and shampoo.

Fisherman Found Guilty Of Murder

Bridgeton, N. J., June 29 (AP)—Charles "Doc" Williams, 50-year-old oyster boat fisherman, last night was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury of four men and eight women in connection with the bludgeoning slaying March 18 of William Coggins, 67, retired oysterman of Bivalve.

The verdict, reached after three hours of deliberations, recommended life imprisonment at hard labor.

Cumberland County Judge Solve Tuso immediately sentenced Williams to a life term at hard labor.

Police said Coggins was found bludgeoned to death the day after an all-night poker game in the victim's home, where he lived alone.

Special Session Of Assembly Sought

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP)—A special session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly to act on fair employment practices legislation, low cost housing, a G. I. bill of rights and a full employment bill was urged by more than 100 representatives of county FEPC committees at a conference here.

The meeting, held yesterday to take initial steps toward establishment of a permanent fair employment practices organization in Pennsylvania, adopted a recommendation to petition Governor Martin for such a legislative session.

Some delegates vigorously opposed inclusion of anything in the petition except FEPC on grounds some groups favorable to a law banning job discrimination would be opposed to some of the other proposals.

Named as temporary officers for the proposed organization were Michael Johnson, Harrisburg, chairman; Mrs. Lillian Narrens, Philadelphia, secretary; and Charles Thompson, West Chester, treasurer.

COUNTY DRIVER FACES CHARGES

Drivers of two automobiles involved in a collision early Monday morning along the East Berlin road, four miles west of York, are named as defendants on charges lodged by State police before Justice of the Peace Charles Hoke, of Spring Grove. The accused are Richard Brennenman, 21, West York, and Robert Fournman, 17, of Abbottstown R. 1.

The collision which occurred at 1:15 a. m. resulted in injuries to five persons, all of whom were treated at the York hospital and then discharged. Investigation of the crash by Private J. A. Tappe, of the York sub-station of the state police, revealed that Fournman's machine was parked along the highway when it was struck by Brennenman's car. Brennenman is charged with reckless driving and Fournman with the illegal use of registration plates.

Occupants of the Brennenman machine, in addition to the driver, were Marion Myers, 17 and Esther Kramer, 20, both of York. Brennenman sustained lacerations of the right hand, right eye and on the body. Miss Myers was treated for lacerations on both legs and the chest and Miss Kramer also received treatment for lacerations of both elbows.

Fournman escaped uninjured but his passengers, Miss Anna Staub, 17, and Miss Phyllis Jacobs, 19, of York, were hurt. The Staub girl suffered lacerations on the left hand and brush burns on the right leg and Miss Jacobs was treated for lacerations on the left hand and both legs.

The damage to the Brennenman car was estimated at approximately $175 and that to the Fournman car at $100.

GANDHI WANTS PEACE IN EAST

By Preston Grover
Simla, India, June 29 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi said today it was his "hope and prayer" that there would be a happy outcome to the Wavell conference, even as Moslem League and Congress party representatives reached an impasse in the efforts to constitute a new government for India.

The Simla conference, summoned by Viceroy Wavell to discuss his plans for an almost completely Indian government, adjourned today. It was announced, but is "expected" to reconvene July 14.

It was explained that the adjournment would permit the conferees to consult among themselves and resolve the dispute, but it was regarded as significant that the time of reconvening was indefinite.

Collapse of the conference is threatened by a dispute over distribution of seats in the proposed new executive council, with the Moslem League insisting it alone is capable of representing the Moslem population.

Gandhi's Congress party, contending it is fully representative of all India, wants a voice in selection of the Moslem representatives.

Gandhi, in one of the few interviews he has granted in recent months, upheld this position of his party today—that it represents all the Indian communities.

Doylestown, Pa., June 29 (AP)—The persons who killed a 500-pound heifer in Montford Nicholas' pasture and made off with the carcass after leaving behind the head, hide and internal parts were apparently pretty good butchers.

CLAIMS DEATH OF NAVY NURSE NOT A SUICIDE

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—The mystery-shrouded death of a pretty 23-year-old navy nurse who tumbled from a seventh floor hotel window was under investigation Thursday by a special navy board and Philadelphia homicide detectives.

Deputy Coroner Frank Casper said the death of Ens. Alyce Ruth Winter, of Ford City, Pa., was "not a suicide."

Detective Harry Morris said the girl may have leaned from an open window, lost her balance and toppled to the street.

Her body was discovered by a bell-boy, who said he was standing just outside the hotel entrance when he heard a thud. He investigated and found the girl's body, clad only in a pajama top, 15 feet from the curb. The body was identified nine hours later by Ens. Marjorie Wood, a companion at the hotel.

An unfinished letter, which Coroner Casper said displayed good spirits, was found in her hotel room, addressed to her mother.

Ens. Wood said that Ens. Winter left her room early Wednesday morning stating "I feel awfully good. I think I'll go over and visit with a couple of other girls."

Before leaving, Ens. Wood said, she told her she was expecting a telephone call from her "boy friend."

That was at 2 a. m. Her actions between that time and 3:30 a. m., when the body was discovered, are not accounted for.

Poles Confident Of New Regime

Moscow, June 29 (AP)—Back in Warsaw, Polish leaders began Thursday the task of preparing for formal announcement of the new Provisional Government of National Unity, which is expected soon.

President Boleslaw Bierut, of the Polish National Council, Premier Edward Osobka-Morawski of the Lublin regime, and Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who is expected to become vice premier, expressed confidence Wednesday, on their arrival at the airfield, that the new regime would unite all Poles.

Bierut said that "reconstruction of the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity," charted in the meetings in Moscow of various Polish groups, "is of outstanding significance to the nation." He added that it was particularly gratifying that the reorganization took place according to the decisions of the Yalta conference.

"Without question," he said, "the problem will strengthen the alliance of the United Nations and the regained victory over Hitlerism and alliance of the great powers who now build a new peace. Much work lies ahead of us and we will be able to accomplish our tasks only by the unity of all forces of the people."

prayer to Our Lady of Good Counsel, by the pastor, Rev. John H. Weber. Routine reports followed and a resume of the Conewago Deanery convention held recently in Buchanan Valley was given by one of the delegates, Mary Weaver. It was decided that the council would have an announced Mass read for the repose of the soul of Father Weber's mother, who died recently. The council also voted a contribution of $10.00 to the Cathedral assessment of the church. A letter of invitation to attend a skating party for the Deanery Youth at Forest Park in Hanover on July 10 was read and the local youths plan to attend. An article entitled "How to Wreck an Organization" was read by Anna Weaver. The president announced the names of the committee chairmen for the ensuing year as follows and asked them to attend a meeting on August 1 to plan the programs for the coming year: Study club, Helena Pfaff; Youth, Marie Anthony; Shirlins in the homes, Mrs. William V. Sneeringer; NCCS-UCO, Mrs. B. Roy Kehl; Library and Literature, Miss Anna C. Weaver; cooperation with Catholic charities, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode; Diocesan needs, Mary Rita Redding; Hospitality, Miss Evelyn Altoff; Parent and Home Education, Mrs. Regina Arter, and publicity, Mary Weaver.

The meeting closed with brief remarks by the pastor and the reading of the Prayer for Youth.

The council doesn't have to follow the court's opinion. It can chuck it away or use it, as the council sees fit, in reaching a decision.

The new court differs sharply from the old court—set up in 1920 under the old league—in this way: The old one was a little outside the league. The new one is a very direct part of the United Nations' organization. The new court will have headquarters at the Hague in Holland where the old court sat.

Until the United Nations formally comes into being through ratification of its charter by the various governments, a temporary force will be working in London.

Set Permanent Hunting Seasons

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Game commission has established permanent seasons for large and small hunting.

President Ross L. Leffler announced the action, asserting it will eliminate confusion and enable hunters to plan their vacations well in advance each year.

Dates of the small game season will be November 1-30, with the large game season starting December 1 and concluding 15 days later. The commission previously tried to start seasons on Monday regardless of the date.

A four-day bear hunting season was set to start November 26, while regulations governing fox hunting were left unchanged.

The commission authorized two weeks of buck deer shooting from December 1-15 except in Lancaster, Chester, Delaware, Philadelphia, Bucks, Montgomery and those portions of Dauphin, Lebanon, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties lying south of U. S. Route 22, where a combined season for all deer except spike bucks was declared.

VANDENBERG PLEADS FOR PEACE PACT

By JACK BELL

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) told his colleagues today they must accept the United Nations charter as a brave experiment or cheat the world of "its only collective chance" for peace.

In a vigorous endorsement of the San Francisco conference agreement for formation of an international organization, the chairman of the Republican senatorial conference called the pledges hewn out there "a new emancipation proclamation for the world."

Before the tall Michigan senator took the floor, Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican steering committee, said he and others are thinking of trying to write into the ratification resolution limitations on the authority Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., will wield as American delegate on the proposed world security council.

Alternative Is Chaos
Speaking from a prepared manuscript, Vandenberg said he would support the charter "in the deep conviction that the alternative is physical and moral chaos in many weary places of the earth."

"I shall do it because there must be no default in our oft-pledged purpose to outlaw aggression so far as lies within our human power," he declared. "I shall do it because this plan, regardless of infirmities, holds great promise that the United Nations may collaborate for peace as effectively as they have made common causes for war.

"I shall do it because peace must not be cheated out of its only collective chance. * * * I doubt if there could ever be another or better start."

Vandenberg, who helped draft the charter as an American delegate, said the Pacific settlement of disputes, not force, is the real genius of the charter, adding:

Condemns Criminals
"It is my profound belief that the Pacific contracts and consultations which will constantly be maintained by the powers—and particularly the great powers—plus the Pacific routines which every dispute must exhaust before it is subject to any sort of sanctions, can resolve most, if not all, of the controversies which otherwise might lead once more to war."

Under the organization's formula, there could be no escape by any

Just Folks

ILL-TEMPER
This I often say to me:
"Hope you'll never let me see How ill-tempered you can be."

"When you're angry go and hide
Till the fire has cooled inside.
Keep your friends and save your pride!"

"There are those who'll grieve to know
What a sorry side you show
When you let your temper go."

"When you're angry silent stay,
You'll regret what you may say.
Hold your tongue and walk away!"

Today's Talk

COUNTRYMEN
I like the people of the soil—those who till it and bring forth its harvests. What an asset they are to the entire world! What would we do without them? A nation that is not agricultural has great problems to face, whereas countries like Russia, the United States and Canada, for example, have unlimited possibilities for growth and usefulness.

Among the happiest experiences of my life were those early ones that I spent upon Michigan farms. Country folk are great people. They live close to Nature. They think in terms of the fundamental things of life. They are sincere and lack the boast of city folk. They do a great deal of serious thinking, too. Through the many publications that they receive and by means of the radio, they keep abreast of the world and its many problems. Their wise words and opinions are worth noting.

Merely because so few countrymen are college educated means little. They go to a greater college—all Nature—and gain an education that is often the envy of the college bred. They see deeply into simple truths, and respect the fundamentals. Many of them are shrewd philosophers. All are intelligent.

The countrymen are forever discovering themselves. They see themselves reflected in the life about them. They go to church under the blue sky of the day, and worship in the cathedral of the starry night. They are God-fearing folk.

It is a wonder that these countrymen talk and write in the poet's language? What a contribution countrymen have made to the wide world! Their heritage is written in the Who's Who of the world. In the halls of Congress and Parliament they take their places proudly to do their duty to the State and their fellowman. This world is proud of its Cromwells and its Putnams.

The great team of the future must be that of Industry and Agriculture. The two together, working harmoniously and efficiently, can do more to make secure the peace of the world than any other combination. Their opportunity is limitless! Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Simplicity"

HST ASKS U.S. TO BE FIRST TO RATIFY CHARTER

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Kansas City, Mo., June 29 (AP)—President Truman put squarely up to the senate today what he termed the decision on future peace.

Unless the United States leads the way by ratification of the United Nations charter and a world court, he declared, "There can be no peace in the world."

His solemn warning, voiced in a homecoming ceremony last night in which he received the honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Kansas City's law school increased speculation he may submit the charter to the senate Monday in person.

"We are going to have to ratify this constitution of San Francisco," the president declared, "And I want to say to the United States: 'Do it first.'"

Meets Landon

Meanwhile the president arranged a 5 p. m. (EWT) conference with former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, 1936 Republican presidential nominee.

One of a series of moves to unite both parties and all factions behind non-partisan objectives, the meeting will take place in the President's temporary suite atop the Hotel Muehlebach. He later will attend a buffet supper as guest of Roy W. Roberts, managing-editor of the Kansas City Star.

Landon and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 GOP standard bearer, were invited some weeks ago to call on the president for discussion. A date with Dewey, set for last Monday in Washington, had to be postponed because of the delay in the closing of the San Francisco conference. A new date has yet to be arranged.

The President's speech in the municipal auditorium, given extemporaneously, was a reiteration of his oft-expressed request for an end to isolationism.

Mrs. F. J. Stinson is spending a vacation in Canada.

3,000 Workers On Sympathy Strike

Allentown, Pa., June 29 (AP)—Approximately 3,000 employees of the Mack Manufacturing company plant here quit work on Thursday in what union officials described as "a walkout in sympathy" with similar action at the New Brunswick, N. J. Mack plant Wednesday.

Joseph Sandy, president of Local 677 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said the Allentown plant employees would "continue their unauthorized walkout until the New Brunswick controversy is settled."

Sandy said he had been advised 2,200 employees of the Plainfield, N. J. Mack plant also had stopped work today in sympathy with the New Brunswick action.

The union official said New Brunswick workers demanded seniority rights on a plant-wide basis instead of a departmental basis in connection with cutback and reconversion reductions of employees.

Company officials would not comment.

JOBS FOR VETERANS

Pittsburgh, June 29 (AP)—Leonard D. Helfer, president of the Pennsylvania Retail Jewelers' association estimated Wednesday there would be 4,000 jobs for returning army veterans in Pennsylvania. Helfer outlined a plan by which veterans hired would be given instruction as they work.

Miss Mary Ramer, of Baltimore street, spent the week-end with friends in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

First Lieutenant Donald Eckert, U. S. Army, is spending some time at his home here after being stationed for the past three years at Fort Reilly with the Thirteenth cavalry. He leaves for the Philippines in August to join the Twenty-sixth cavalry.

SAY UNCLE

By DOROTHY BURGESS

Chapter 5
Magnolia began to weep copiously. Like a sudden tropical storm, large tears gushed down her fat cheeks, as she clasped her chubby hands and rocked her rotund body to and fro.

"Lordy! Lordy!" she moaned. "Master John done leave mah honey-chile . . . and now the devil done take over, makin' mah baby see things what ain't!"

Sambo's body jerked as though it had been jabbed with a hatpin. "Ah's quittin'!" he gasped. "Ah is a very sick man and in no condi- tion to saddle no more horses— specially for dadd folks!"

"Listen here, you good-fo'-nothin' bunch of useless muscle," she said, as she furiously wiped away her tears, "you or nobody else is walkin' out mah honey-chile in her condi- tion and if you so much as tries," her eyes narrowed, "I'll see to it personal that you leaves feet first!"

Heath me! Now git out of here be- fore I really loses mah temper and gits into action!"

Sambo disappeared like a gust of black smoke, while Magnolia, still boiling with anger, whirled around as she heard the soft-padded foot steps of Sin Low enter from the dining room.

"And that goes for you, too!" she shouted.

"The innocent Chinaman grinned. "Velly good," he said agreeably, without knowing exactly why.

When Midge and Uncle Louie re- turned from their morning can- trace looking refreshed and gay, hav- ing changed into sport attire. Uncle Louie looked very snappy in his white flannels, white sport shoes, canary-yellow socks and blazer.

And Midge looked pretty in her white skirt and light-green angora sweater.

"Breakfast on the terrace," said Uncle Louie. "What could be more delightful!"

"I thought you would like it," she smiled.

As they walked to the white iron grill chairs and table, which were arranged to face Long Island Sound, Midge said, "Sit there, Uncle Louie."

"As you wish, my dear."

Sin Low emerged from the house carrying a serving tray on which were two halves of grapefruit. He grinned his salutation.

"Morning, Missie Midge."

"Good morning, Sin Low," she answered. Then she looked at Uncle Louie as Sin Low placed the fruit in front of her.

"Uncle Louie, would you rather have orange juice?"

Sin Low, seeing no one, asked her "You speekie to me, Missie Midge?"

Before Midge could answer the slightly bewildered Chinaman, Uncle Louie interrupted.

"Would it be asking too much, my dear," he asked shyly, "if I might, instead, have a dish of prunes?"

"Prunes!" she laughed. And Sin Low laughed with her, thinking she was playing some kind of a game with him.

"Velly funny," he agreed.

Facts About Late Potatoes

Experienced commercial potato growers often repeat a basic principle in growing the late crop—"August makes or breaks the crop."

The same principle applies in July to potatoes started a little earlier. In other words, there is a different condition prevailing in late summer than that encountered with the early potato crop. What is it?

Potatoes are cool-weather plants. They prefer a moist but uniformly moderate temperature for maximum vigor. The extremely hot days which, usually come in late July and throughout most of August, es- pecially when accompanied by dry weather, are injurious to the potato plant's inherent habits of growth.

The grower must be prompt to help the plants bridge this unfavorable period.

As frequently mentioned in this column, all plants manufacture their root, stem and leaf building ma- terials in the leaves. There the sun's rays and that strange property known as chlorophyll combine to turn plant foods and elements gathered from the soil and air into cell-building material. Unless the potato plant develops and retains a full complement of leaves, there will be a shortage of building ma- terials available when the time comes for the roots to form their crop of tubers. Therefore, the grower's biggest task in helping his po- tatoes across the danger period in mid-summer and hot dry weather of normal years is—promote and protect the leaves.

It has been said that potatoes would be benefited by Bordeaux mixture applications even if there were no insects to combat or dis- eases to prevent. This is explained only by the fact that in some strange manner Bordeaux mixture keeps potato foliage cool and stimu- lates the plants to form and retain a maximum crop of healthy leaves.

Leafhoppers are usually numerous in July and August. These busy little pests are responsible for the potato condition known as hopperburn. And while Bordeaux mixture is not an insecticide, it repels the adult leaf-

FRANKIE HAYES WILL SET NEW RECORD TODAY

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Frank Hayes will set a new Major league endurance record for catchers today when he dons the mask and mitt for the Cleveland Indians against his former mates, the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 29-year-old iron man caught his 217th consecutive big league game yesterday to tie the mark set by Ray Mueller of Cincinnati last year.

Traded to the Indians three weeks ago for Receiver Buddy Rosar, Hayes has been a potent factor in the tribe's recent spurt which saw them win four of their last six games to move within a half game of the sixth-place St. Louis Browns.

Although batting under the .250 mark, he has driven in 2 runs and walked seven homers, third high in the league.

Jim Bagby of the Indians hung up an 11-0 whitewash yesterday, spacing six Philadelphia hits for his second triumph of the campaign against eight losses. It was the Athletics' ninth straight defeat.

Newhouse Wins 12th

Detroit regained undisputed possession of the American league lead by defeating Washington 5-2 while the Browns were humbling the New York Yankees 9-4 in their third straight night contest.

Lefty Hal Newhouse, last year's top winner in the Majors, appeared on his way to repeat by registering his 12th victory, tops this season, and his seventh in a row.

Trailing 2-1, the Tigers pounced on the Senators' Roger Wolff for a pair of markers in the fifth frame and added two more later. Detroit now holds a one-game lead over the Yankees.

Sig Jakucki handcuffed the New Yorkers for five frames and then coasted to an easy win as his mates pounded starter Joe Page and Steve Roser for six hits in the fifth.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals narrowed the breach between themselves and the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 as the Dodgers were losing to Chicago's Cubs 11-8.

Ken Burkhardt registered his eighth triumph in limiting the Phils to six hits while the Cards hammered Bill Lee for five runs in one big inning.

Pirates Nip Giants

Six pitchers took part in the Cubs-Browns slugfest, with Claude Passeau the winner and Leroy Pfund the loser.

Harry Lowrey of the Cubs and Goody Rosen of the Dodgers connected for homers.

Pitcher Nick Strincevich and outfielder Al Gionfriddo combined to defeat the Giants for Pittsburgh, 3-1.

Strincevich allowed only seven hits and was prevented from hurling a shutout by Nep Reyes' fourth homer.

Gionfriddo had a perfect four for four, driving in a run and scoring another.

Chuck Workman's homer with one on and two out in the ninth enabled the Boston Braves to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 7-6.

Jim Tobin helped his own cause with a two-run homer, his third, in the fourth inning.

Tommy Holmes of the Braves hit safely in his 24th consecutive game.

The American league Boston-Chicago tilt was postponed by rain.

York Plummets Into Loop Cellar

(By The Associated Press)

After a solid week in fifth place, the York White Roses found themselves back in the cellar of the Interstate league today.

Hagerstown's Owls, who have been bouncing in and out of last place, climbed back to fifth last night by dusting off York's ace hurler, Jim Patton, 6-3.

Patton gave up 10 hits and five passes, most of them concentrated in later innings.

The Roses had jumped off to a three run lead in the first two innings, but Hagerstown picked away until they tied the score in the seventh.

They added three more in the eighth.

All other games were rained out.

Lancaster journeys to Wilmington tonight for a "cross-hill" two-game series between the league's two top teams.

Tonight's schedule: Allentown at Hagerstown, two games.

Lancaster at Wilmington.

York at Trenton.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 29 (AP)—Most of the 40 or so college baseball coaches who'll meet here today and tomorrow are a bit warm under the collar from other things than the weather. . . . Two of their handicaps are the snatching of their players by professional clubs and the insistence of football coaches on having the boys for spring practice during the baseball season. . . . But the sponsors of the meeting, Eppy Barnes and Joe Bedenk, realize that they won't get anywhere by quarrelling with organized ball, with football coaches or with the athletic directors. . . . What they want to do is to make college ball strong enough to stand on its own feet before they tackle any of these long-term improvements. . . . The prospects look good, too, for every one of more than 100 coaches who replied to Barnes' invitations came out in favor of the organization and its aims.

FISH STORY

The Iowa Conservation Letter re-lays this yarn of how a retired farmer, J. B. Huisman, went cat-fishing in the Iowa river. . . . after a long wait, Huisman hooked a big one and had it near shore when a muskrat grabbed the fish. . . . During the struggle, the catfish escaped and the muskrat was hooked. Then the Huisman family dog jumped in to tangle with the muskrat and got himself hooked while the rat got away. . . . Disgusted, the angler hauled in the dog, rolled up his line and went home. . . . Poor guy—he probably had to eat meat for supper that night.

Albany Manager Rip Collins has the Indian sign on Hartford's Eastern league laurels.

The ripper slammed his fourth homer of the season last night — his third against Hartford — to score two runs and give Albany a 2-1 victory in the second game of a twin bill. And it was the third time this season that a Collins homer provided the margin of victory against Hartford.

The Senators also won the curtain raiser, 2-0, to stretch their lead over idle Williamsport to two and one-half games. Utica vanquished Binghamton 11-4. The Elmira-Scranton, Williamsport - Wilkes-Barre contests were rained out.

How is Your SILHOUETTE?

Etienne de Silhouette was Finance Minister of France in 1759, under Louis XV. He urged the people to lead simpler lives in order to build a stronger France. Caricaturists came out with portraits featuring only the outlines of the head and shoulders. They called this frugal form of art a "silhouette."

Today America must watch its "silhouette." To combat dangerous inflation, our national economy must be reduced to the bare black and white outlines of a silhouette. We urge you to practice thrift for victory and security. Buy War Bonds. Build up your bank account.

Couple Weds This Evening In Presbyterian Church

(Reprinted from Saturday, June 23 edition of The Times)

Miss Violet Lackner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Lackner, North Franklin street, will become the bride of Staff Sergeant Ray M. Flickinger, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Flickinger, Arendtsville, at 6 o'clock this evening in the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. Dr. J. M. Myers, of the Seminary faculty, will officiate and nuptial music will be provided by Mrs. J. E. Sanderson.

The church will be decorated with white daffodils and palms with white candles in tall candelabra.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her father, will wear a white slipper gown with fitted bodice, square neckline and full skirt with short train. Her fingertip veil will be caught with a halo of tiny white flowers. She will carry a white Bible with a spray of white roses and gardenias fastened to the top and streamers of white satin ribbon with tiny pom poms, knotted, falling from the Bible.

Nuptial Attendants

Miss Dorothy M. Lackner, sister of the bride, will be her attendant and will be gowned in pink brocade satin made with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. Two little girls dressed in white street length dresses will serve as taper lighters. They are Nancy Lee and Shirley Flickinger.

The best man will be the bride's brother, AMMI 2-c Charles S. Lackner, of Norfolk, Virginia. The ushers will be James H. Harness, a discharged veteran who was wounded in action on the Anzio beachhead and served there with the bridegroom, and Earl Flickinger.

A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped by figures of a soldier and bride, will stand on top of the dining room table with tall white candles for decorations. Immediately after the reception the bride and groom will leave for a honeymoon of unannounced destination. The bride will wear a white ensemble for her going away outfit.

MISS VIOLET LACKNER

semble for her going away outfit.

Mrs. Lackner, mother of the bride, will wear black with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother will wear black with white. Both will wear corsages of gardenias.

To Live In Michigan

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school. She has been employed at the civil service commission office, Harrisburg, for the past few years.

Sergeant Flickinger attended Arendtsville high school. He entered service in 1942, training at Camp Wheeler, Georgia, and Camp Butler, North Carolina, before going overseas in 1944. He was wounded on Anzio beachhead and later returned to this country for hospitalization. At present he is located at Percy Jones Hospital Center, Fort Custer, Michigan. He recently received the Silver Star, which was awarded him for gallantry in action on Anzio, and wears the Good Conduct ribbon, Purple Heart, and European theatre of operations ribbon with two stars.

The bride and groom will make their home in Michigan where Sergeant Flickinger is stationed.

Home After 2 Years As German Prisoner

Pfc. Paul Kuhn, 35, son of Mrs. Clara Kuhn, New Oxford, returned to his home Saturday after having been a prisoner of the Germans for over two years.

Kuhn was reported as missing on February 17, 1943, when he was serving in North Africa. His mother received notice in June of that year that he had been taken prisoner.

Before entering the service in June, 1941, Kuhn was employed by the Beaudin Shoe company, Hanover.

Court Upholds H.S. Study Appeal

Judge W. C. Sheely today sustained the appeal of Howard S. Study, Littlestown, from the Workmen's Compensation Board ruling that the injury he sustained in an accident July 21, 1941, had decreased to the extent of 35 per cent and "directed that the record be returned to the Workmen's Compensation Board for the purpose of taking additional testimony."

Study received an injury to his back while engaged in unloading a truck belonging to the Littlestown Canning Company July 21, 1941, and received $18 a week compensation on the basis of total disability from July 29, 1941 to August 23, 1943. At that time the Littlestown Canning Company filed a petition seeking to terminate the agreement with Study claiming that the disability caused by the accident had ceased to exist and that he was able to do certain types of work offered by the company, but which Study had refused.

Doctor Testifies

The referee of the Compensation Board found that Study's disability "had not ceased" but that it had decreased, and from August 24, 1943 to October 26, 1943 Study "suffered only 50 per cent disability and that partial disability to the extent of 35 per cent still exists."

Medical testimony was given by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, in which the claimant's present condition was described as the result of hypertrophic osteoarthritis, which the doctor said may have been temporarily aggravated by the strain of lifting in unloading the truck. Dr. Wolff also stated that Study was still 50 per cent disabled.

According to Judge Sheely's opinion, the matter of compensation and the degree of disability attributable to the injury are matters which should be re-examined by the Workmen's Compensation Board, in order to fix the status of the claimant, Howard S. Study.

Mercury Soars To 93 Degrees Sunday

The mercury soared to a new high on Sunday, according to the weather recording instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, when 93 degrees was recorded. This was the highest reading for the year.

Shortly before noon today the thermometer registered 91 degrees, but this is expected to be topped before late afternoon when the mercury reading soars to its highest point.

Saturday's high was 88, while Sunday evening's low reading was 66 degrees.

SOLDIER HAS CHICKEN FARM IN NEW GUINEA

Far East Air Forces, New Guinea (By Mail)—First Sergeant Harold C. Miller, husband of Mrs. Dorothy E. Miller, York Springs, has been serving overseas as 1st Sergeant of one of the most famous Ordnance Supply and Maintenance companies of the Far East Air Forces for the past twenty-two months.

During his tour of duty at the United States Sergeant Miller at Aberdeen Ordnance Tractor Mechanics School at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

During his off duty hours Sergeant Miller has busied himself with rather an odd hobby. He, along with two of his buddies have started a New Guinea chicken farm, which over a period of time has proven both successful and profitable. Starting at first with only a few chickens they now have a flock close to seventy-five and have a daily average of at least a dozen eggs. It may be said that these boys have originated one of the most unique pastimes in the SWPA.

Sergeant Miller is the holder of the American Defense Ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific Theatre Ribbon with one bronze star for the New Guinea campaign and also has been awarded the Motor Vehicle Mechanics Badge, Motor Vehicle Drivers Badge and the Good Conduct Medal.

ENS. LINDTWEED IS WED JUNE 9

The marriage of Miss Jean Shaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maldon Shaver, 4160 Beach Drive, Seattle, Wash., to Ensign John Galt Lindtweed, USNR, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, June 9, at 5:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Alameda base, near San Francisco, in the presence of a group of friends, including a number of officers from the ship to which Ensign Lindtweed is assigned.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain Quentin Garman, formerly of Harrisburg, and a college mate of the bridegroom at Gettysburg college.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Charles N. Reynolds, head of the department of sociology at Stanford university. Mrs. Leslie Janett served as matron of honor.

Ensign Charles Lewis Martin, a room-mate of the bridegroom aboard ship, served as best man.

HARVESTING OF PEA CROP IS DIFFICULT

A cool, wet spring has been favorable for the development of the pea crop in Adams county this year. County Agent M. T. Hartman said, and harvesting should produce a high yield. Burgoon and Yingling expect to have a 25 per cent greater yield this year than last and harvesting should be over by next week, J. I. Burgoon said this morning.

The favorable weather has produced as much as a ton and a half to two tons an acre of shelled peas. The vegetables are of high quality and the market is extremely good. Mr. Burgoon said. The government is taking 50 per cent of all the canning.

One canner however, who refused to be named, stated that weather conditions were too favorable and that it is impossible to harvest and process the peas because they all matured at once. "The picture is very bad," this canner said, "and we did not have the manpower or equipment to bring the peas in, and we had to pass up a great many fields which were ripe."

Officials of the Hanover Canning company, which processes large crops from Adams county, report that this crop is the best they have ever had, and that some fields have run as high as four tons of shelled peas to the acre, although this is not general, and a ton-and-a-half to two-ton yield is considered bumper.

Another canner who wished to withhold his name also stated that the simultaneous maturing of peas has produced a crisis in the pea industry and that many fields will not be cut because they have already matured too much to be utilized before they could be harvested. At the same time he reported that yields are as high as four tons per acre in some sections and that the average would be around two tons per acre.

Fortney is the husband of Mrs. Irene Fortney, Harrisburg, and brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Giltin with whom they are residing at present.

Cpl. Herbert Smith Arrives In States

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Smith, of Gettysburg, received a telephone call from their son, Cpl. Herbert Smith, Friday evening, informing them he arrived in the United States from a hospital in England. For a brief time he will be at Camp Shanks, N. Y., after which he will be transferred to a hospital.

Cpl. Smith suffered the loss of a leg from wounds received in Germany. He told his parents his twin brother, Cpl. Harvey Smith, who is still stationed in Germany, spent six and one-half days of a furlough with him at a hospital in England just before he returned to the States.

CAPT. WENTZ'S DIVISION CITED BY GEN. PATTON

Captain Wayne F. Wentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Wentz, East High street, recently received a commendation from Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commanding the Third United States Army. The local office is serving with the 95th Infantry division.

General Patton's commendation addressed to the Division follows: "The achievement of your division and attached units, consisting of the 607th Tank Destroyer Battalion, 778th Tank Battalion, and 547th AAA AW Battalion, in successfully completing the assigned mission in connection with the reduction and capture of the strongly fortified city of Metz by Third U. S. Army was outstanding, both in the combat skill of the individual units committed and the control and sound tactical judgment displayed by commanders of all echelons."

14-Days' Attack "The fourteen days of continuous attack against a strong and aggressive enemy, along a 26-mile front, drove irresistibly to the heart of the city of Metz where contact was made with American forces advancing from the south. In the course of this attack you successfully (1) made four assault crossings of the Moselle River at its high flood stage, (2) penetrated the line of defense to accomplish the mission, and (3) greatly contributed to the destruction of an entire reinforced German division. Against these fortifications which had never before in modern times fallen by assault, in terrain favorable to the enemy, and under almost intolerable weather conditions of rain, flood, and bitter cold, your officers and men met a most searching combat test which required not only individual courage, skill and endurance, but also sound tactical judgment coupled with an insatiable desire to close with the enemy."

"This achievement has added lustre to the glorious history of American arms, for which you and all the officers and enlisted personnel of your division and attached units are highly commended."

They hold the European, African, Middle Eastern theater ribbon with battle stars, and the Good Conduct medal. Kepner entered the service June 4, 1941 and was discharged June 21, 1945. Myer entered the service Feb. 2, 1942 and was released June 8, 1945.

PFC. EPLEY IS GIVEN SILVER STAR MEDAL

Pfc. Robert E. Epley, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Epley, Gettysburg R. 5, has been awarded the Silver Star medal and an accompanying citation "for gallantry in action" in Germany, on April 10.

Pfc. Epley, an infantryman with the Ninth Army, was cited for "daring, rapid action initiative" in capturing single-handed and silently a German armed with a rocket launcher and an automatic weapon, thus allowing Yankee columns to pass undetected through enemy-held territory.

Unable To Use Own Gun

The citation, which was signed by the commander of the 84th (Rail-splitter) division, follows:

"While acting as rear guard security for a marching column, Pfc. Epley discovered a German soldier armed with a rocket launcher and automatic weapon. Realizing the danger to an approaching motor column, Pfc. Epley silently and swiftly captured the enemy soldier after a hand-to-hand encounter being unable to use his weapon due to the possibility of alerting other hostile troops in the area. "The daring, rapid action initative and unswerving devotion to duty displayed by Pfc. Epley enabled the column to pass undetected through enemy positions and are in accordance with the finest traditions of the military service of the United States."

PFC. ROBERT E. EPLEY

Pfc. Epley is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1942. Before entering service May 19, 1944, he was employed by C. E. Wolf at Granite warehouse. He received his basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala. and went overseas last October.

When his parents heard from him last he was stationed near Hanover, Germany.

at the Lettenkenny Ordnance Depot, and prior to that he was employed at the Gettysburg Panel factory for 10 years.

He has two brothers in the service. Sgt. Kenneth Eugene Hertz, 26, stationed at Malden Army Air Base, Missouri, and Gunner's Mate Third Class Robert L. Hertz, 24, who is serving somewhere in the Pacific.

HOME FROM 35 MONTHS ABROAD

Sergeant John H. Keller, 47-year-old former Gettysburg police officer, returned home Friday afternoon from the wars, 14 pounds lighter in weight, wearing a Bronze Star and a good conduct medal and an honorable discharge after more than three years in service. 35 months of his enlistment were served overseas.

Sergeant Keller served under Colonel "Hitchhiking" Harry Hulen, of the 347th Engineers of the Third Army, commanded by General George S. Patton, Jr. He wears four campaign ribbons including Normandy, Northern France, Rhine Campaign and East of the Rhine campaign.

Builds Rhine Bridge

The local soldier's proudest accomplishment is the spanning of the Rhine with a 2,200-foot steel bridge in nine and one-half days, breaking the former record of a ten-days spanning with a smaller bridge. Sgt. Keller supervised the laying of the railroad track across the bridge which was dedicated by General Patton as the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial bridge. Patton cut the tape at the dedicatory exercises with a bayonet, discarding a pair of scissors with this remark: "I'm a soldier, give me a bayonet."

On another occasion, during the German advance in the Belgium Bulge, Sergeant Keller's outfit was called upon to erect seven smaller bridges in 48 hours. The task was completed. Sgt. Keller had 150 German prisoners working in his outfit in this operation.

A Company citation from General Patton for Keller's outfit reads as follows:

Lauded by Patton

"From the bloody corridor at Avranches, to Brest, thence across France to the Saar, over the Saar into Germany, and now on to Bastogne, your record has been one of continuous victory. Not only have you invariably defeated a cunning and ruthless enemy, but also you have overcome by your indomitable fortitude every aspect of terrain and weather. Neither heat nor dust nor floods nor snow have stayed your progress. The speed and brilliancy of your achievements is unsurpassed in military history."

With his customary flourish Patton closed the citation with a quotation from General Scott, at Chapultepec: "Brave soldiers, veterans, you have been baptized in fire and blood and have come out steel."

Sergeant Keller with 94 points to his credit, sailed from LeHavre, France, on the Wakefield, the former Manhattan liner on June 9, and docked at Boston, June 16. He was discharged at Fort Dix Thursday.

His son, Sgt. Jay C. Keller, 26, now serving his third enlistment, is stationed in India.

Emmitsburgian In Accident June 20

An Emmitsburg motorist escaped with head injuries about 7:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning when the automobile he was operating left the Walkersville road, about mid-way between Walkersville and the Ceresville intersection, clipped off a telephone pole, hit a rolled section of snow fence and stopped against another fence.

The motorist was identified by Trooper Richard Myers as Peyton Riley, of Emmitsburg. He was removed to a physician's office for treatment of his injuries, which were described as not serious, and was then able to return to his home.

Riley was reported to have stated that as his car was rounding a curve, going toward Frederick, something happened to the steering wheel and the sedan left the right side of the road and struck the pole, snapping it. The rolled section of snow fence was reported to have been knocked into a nearby field, but not damaged to any extent. The automobile, considerably damaged, had to be towed away from the scene. No charges were preferred.

Upon his arrival he met for the first time in several years his elder brother, George, who had also seen much action in the European theater but who was discharged on the point system early this month and with his wife, the former Miss Mary E. Baker, is spending an indefinite time with his mother. Two other brothers, John and James, are now with the army in Europe.

The convention committee includes T. J. Winebrenner, Mrs. Richard C. Lighter and Mrs. Frank Grider.

The Rev. W. N. Zobler reported for the committee on the Sunday school and church census to be taken in this community and it was announced that the census has been scheduled for the second week of September. Either President Bucher or Mr. Winebrenner will represent the district at the state Sunday school convention sessions in New Castle, it was decided.

Mr. Bucher stressed the importance of having pastors and superintendents attend the district meetings and also urged that children and young people be encouraged to attend church services.

Fred Sanders, United Brethren school superintendent, conducted the devotions and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. Lighter. C. C. Culp was appointed to conduct the devotions at the September meeting when Mrs. Ellen T. Ruehler will speak on the devotional hour in the Sunday school program.

BRONZE STAR FOR LT. ZINN

First Lieutenant John B. Zinn, son of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Zinn, Gettysburg, attached to the 399th Infantry of the Seventh Army, was one of a group of officers and men of the 100th Division to receive the Bronze Star medal in ceremonies held since V-E Day. Forty-six Pennsylvania men shared in the awards for action during campaigns in France, Alsace and Germany.

Bronze stars are awarded for heroic achievement in action or for meritorious service.

The Century Division received its first rest after seven months of continuous front line fighting when the unconditional surrender of Germany was announced.

Lt. Zinn's mother is the former Effie Miller, who taught in the New Oxford public schools a number of years ago.

Mrs. Emma Alwine Is Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Jane Alwine, Biglerville, who died at her home Wednesday evening, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Biglerville Lutheran church. The Rev. Henry C. Nat officiated from the Biglerville Lutheran church. Rev. Henry W. Sternat officiated and burial took place in the Biglerville cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Earl Crum, Edwin Minter, Clyde Orner, J. F. Kanagy, Cyrus Bucher and Charles Yost.

More Comfort In Reich, Chaplain

Captain Leland L. Loy, a chaplain with the 157th Infantry Regiment in Germany and a cousin of Mrs. Howard Felix, Biglerville road, wrote to Mr. and Mrs. Felix that now that the fighting is over in Germany they are leading a more comfortable existence and "it is a comfort not to be shot at anymore." Chaplain Loy, who has a number of friends and relatives in the county, is with the army of occupation.

In his letter he spoke of going swimming at a nearby pool where hot and cold showers were the greatest attraction. Outside of official business, according to the chaplain, there is little contact with the German people, who apparently "are very docile."

Takes Engineering Course In England

The 110th Port Marine Maintenance Company, Southampton, England (By Mail)—Sergeant Edward St. Starry, 23, of York Springs, is looking towards the future by following a course of study under supervision of the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. He is taking a course in diesel and marine engineering.

Sgt. Starry is a marine engine maintenance and repair mechanic, repairing generators and diesel power plants in tankers and Army tugs.

Before entering the army, he handled saws and planers in the mill room of a furniture factory and worked as a maintenance man for a trucking firm. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Starry, live in York Springs.

Helps To Protect Hawaiian Frontier

Pearl Harbor, T. H. (By Mail)—Thousands of square miles in the Central Pacific are under the constant watch of the Hawaiian Sea Frontier, a unit of the fleet, assigned to the task of keeping the sea lanes clear of enemy fleet units.

One of the men assigned to this command is Leroy S. Harner, motor machinist's mate third class, USNR, of Gettysburg, who has been attached to the activity for seven months.

He attended Littlestown high school and was attending college at the time of his enlistment in the naval service in May, 1944. Previous to assignment to this area he was stationed at Richmond, Va.

Harner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Harner of Gettysburg, R. 5.

SOX PURCHASE OF CRONIN IS BIGGEST DEAL

San Francisco, Calif., (AP)—Baseball has furnished the sports pages with some whopping deals through the years, such as the time Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox purchased his present manager, Joe Cronin, from Washington for what was reported a quarter-million dollars.

The Chicago Cubs' purchase of Dizzy Dean from the Cardinals for $185,000 turned out to be a sour investment for the Cubs but on the other side of the ledger the Yankees undoubtedly turned the greatest deal of all in the matter of value received.

Their purchase of Babe Ruth in 1920 for $100,000 paid off in a cascade of golden dividends. For the Yanks, Ruth proved the greatest drawing card the game has known and he obliged his new owners by leading the league in home runs almost steadily for a decade.

Among the minor league clubs, the San Francisco Seals stand out in deals such as Willie Kamm to the White Sox for $125,000; Jimmy O'Connell to the Giants for $100,000; Paul Waner to Pittsburgh for $60,000, to name only a few.

In 1927, Cleveland offered to trade its outfield intact for the Seals' fly chasers, Earl Averill, Roy Johnson and Smead Jolley. When the offer was turned down, Cleveland offered $100,000 for the three Seals. It too, was rejected and the trio went piecemeal for considerably more.

In 1904, the St. Louis Browns offered to swap their infield for the Tacoma Coast league championship infield of Lou Nondyke, first base; Perle Casey, 2b; Tommy Sheehan, 3b, and Truck Eagan, shortstop. The late Mike Fisher, owner of the Tigers, wouldn't go for that one although it meant a complete major league infield for a minor circuit combination.

Capt. Harry O'Day, retired San Francisco policeman who played professional baseball in California and Minneapolis as far back as 1886, remembers when Cincinnati offered to trade any five of its players to the Giants for Buck Ewing, star catcher and all around handyman of the late eighties and early nineties.

Mehring, Littlestown, are serving with the 22nd Tactical Air Command of the 12th Air Force which furnished the air support for the Fifth Army in the victorious northern Italy campaign.

BLUE ROCKS BEAT SPARTANS

(By The Associated Press) The Wilmington Blue Rocks moved back into a challenging position for the Interstate league lead last night with a 5-4 triumph over the Trenton Spartans.

Allentown's Redbirds furnished an assist by nailing out the pace-setting Lancaster Red Roses 4-3 to reverse Tuesday's procedure and enable the Rocks to climb within one game of the Roses.

York and Hagerstown, battling it out for the cellar, divided a twin bill, York taking the opener 10-5, and dropping the nightcap, 6-4.

Allentown hopped on the Red Roses' Tex Kardow for four runs in the first three innings and George Kobay, although nicked for 11 safeties, was strong enough in the pinches to protect the lead.

Bud Estock gave up 14 hits and four runs in hurling the Rocks to their victory, but his teammates manufactured the necessary five runs on eight hits to send the Spartans tumbling back into the second division behind Allentown.

CAPT. KESSEL SEES RESULTS OF BOMBINGS

A Ninth Air Force Bomber Base, Germany (By Mail)—Captain Lester W. Kessel, Jr., of Gettysburg, R. 3, 24-year-old Flight Commander in the 397th "Bridge Busters" Bombardment Group of B-26 Marauders and a veteran of 69 combat missions, recently returned from two weeks of front-line duty to his air base in Germany. His trip was made during the closing days of the war as part of the army's "Ground-Air Liaison" plan under which men of the different branches of service have exchanged visits. Kessel is now en route home.

Capt. Kessel's wife, Mrs. Jerry O. Kessel, of Memphis, Texas, is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Lester W. Kessel, Sr., Gettysburg, R. 3.

With the members of his air crew, Capt. Kessel was driven by jeep to the 9th U. S. Army sector where they joined the famous Second Armored Division near Magdeburg. Upon his return to his Ninth Air Force base, Capt. Kessel had this to say about his trip:

Vividly Impressed

"The impressions made on me were varied and of equal durability so that I am unable to choose the most outstanding. Just the day before we came to Magdeburg, our 397th Marauders had bombed it. As we drove through the ruins of the city the enemy elected so foolishly to defend, the ground forces men looked at our Air Force insignia and called out: 'Nice work, Air Corps.' Its source made it the most exceptional of compliments.

"I observed one marshalling yard which was little more than a gigantic anthill with bits of iron rail jutting up from the mounds of dirt. On the main street of the adjacent town could be seen parts of the freight cars which had been blown afar by the powerful bomb blast. It was gratifying to see at first hand the contribution of our tactical air power to the victory in Europe. I cannot forget the plodding thousands of slave laborers, men and women from all over Europe who were forced to support the German war machine. On their tired faces could be seen profound relief and gratitude.

"I cannot recall having spent a more enlightening time anywhere."

Pfc. William Carter Wears Battle Stars

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter, Gettysburg, have received word that their son, Pfc. William S. Carter, 20, has been given two battle stars for his ETO ribbon as a result of his participation in the battles of Bastogne and Germany.

Pfc. Carter entered service June 11, 1943, and was assigned to an engineer unit. He went overseas eight months ago. He has two brothers in the service, Corp. Benjamin Carter, serving with a quartermaster outfit in Paris, and Pvt. Joseph I. Carter, Ft. McClellan, Ga.

BRONZE MEDAL PRESENTED TO SERGEANT COOL

Mr. and Mrs. George Cool, Emmitsburg, have received word their son, S-Sgt. Cletus Cool, who has been stationed in Italy, has received the Bronze Star medal.

The citation reads: "For heroic achievement in action on March 9, 1945, in the vicinity of Chiesina, Italy. About 5 p. m. a faulty round of ammunition created a muzzle burst, fatally injuring two men and severely wounding several others. The explosion of the faulty round ignited the powder increments on other ammunition near the gun pit creating a serious explosion hazard. The fire caused by the burning powder was likely to attract enemy counter-battery fire as the enemy had direct observation over the gun position but despite these facts, T-5 Cool, platoon aid man, left his place of comparative safety and ran to the aid of his wounded comrades.

"Disregarding the dangers of the burning ammunition and without thought of personal safety, he administered first aid and help in evacuating the wounded men from the danger area. The courage and quick actions displayed by T-5 Cool are highly commendable and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the Armed forces of the United States. Maj. General Willis D. Crittenger."

Brother In Service

Sgt. Cool has been overseas since April, 1943. He wears four battle stars and the Anzio Arrowhead. He is married to Ph. M. C/C Bertie Mae Todds.

Sgt. Cool's brother, Pfc. Allen D. Cool, returned to the United States June 11 and is now at the Woodrow Wilson General Hospital, Staunton, Va. He was awarded the Purple Heart after suffering a leg wound in Germany. Pfc. Cool was overseas since January, 1945. While overseas he wrote his parents that he had twice met Joseph Adelsperger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deven Adelsperger.

LOCAL SOLDIER FALLS OFF TRAIN AND IS KILLED

Sgt. James C. Barnes, 30, husband of Mrs. Myrtle (Braun) Barnes, Gettysburg, was killed instantly Sunday evening at 11:50 o'clock when he fell from a moving train at the Reading Railroad station, Phoenixville.

As far as could be learned only Jay W. Pyle, Phoenixville, was the lone eye-witness to the accident. Pyle said apparently Barnes had been asleep on the train and failed to reach the steps of the coach before the train had made its stop and had started moving again. According to Pyle, Barnes apparently realized the train was moving too fast for him to get off and had turned to re-enter the coach vestibule.

As he turned, Barnes lost his balance and through the momentum of the train was thrown forward to the railroad tracks. The train continued on its way, the crew unaware of the accident.

Mr. Pyle said everything happened so fast he could not be sure if Barnes had been in the first, second or third of the rear coaches. Capt. Lester Fox, of the Valley Forge General hospital, took charge of the body and said death was instantaneous.

In Auto Crash

Sgt. Barnes had been a patient at Valley Forge since October, 1943. He lost his left eye and left arm in an auto accident in September, 1943, several miles east of Gettysburg in which Richard Utz, Gettysburg, was fatally injured.

Sgt. Barnes was returning to the Valley Forge hospital at the time of the accident after spending a week-end pass in Reading.

Before his induction into the service in 1942, Barnes was employed at the Gettysburg Furniture factory and at Mechanicsburg. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Camp Butler, N. C., and Camp Pickett, Va.

He was a son of James B. and Minnie (Powell) Barnes, of New Jersey.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by about 15 brothers and sisters.

PACKED HOUSE PLEASSED WITH SOLDIER SHOW

"Calliope Capers," an all-soldier variety show presented by the Indian town Gap Military Reservation post special services as a feature of the Seventh War Loan drive was well received by an appreciative and capacity audience at the Majestic theatre Tuesday evening.

Highlighted by the impromptu appearance of Miss Grace Myers, daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Myers, Chambersburg street, in one of the skits, the entire presentation showed careful preparation and was well handled by a group of well trained performers, several of whom had been professional entertainers prior to entering the armed forces.

Miss Myers, who will be a senior at Gettysburg high school next year, was selected by Sgt. Frank Borth to assist him in his skit of deft easel artistry. Much to the delight of the audience Miss Myers, who has future ambitions of becoming an artist, quickly drew a striking resemblance of Sgt. Borth and followed with a drawing of Borth seated at the orchestra piano. She had been asked by Sgt. Borth to make any kind of a drawing on the easel who stated he would add a few touches to turn it into a picture. The skit ended with Miss Myers scribbling a few lines over the paper and with Borth adding several curves to turn it into a woman with a high hair-do.

Enjoy Vocalist

Cpl. "Sonny" Woods, who appeared here in a show during the Sixth War Loan drive, was perhaps the best received of the individual performers with his vocal renditions of "I Had a Talk with the Lord," "An Irish Lullaby," and "Danny Boy."

Cpl. Fritz Kobayashi delighted with several sleight-of-hand tricks including rope cutting and paper tearing. The tap-dancing team of Pvt. George Mongo and Sidney Rogers proved popular with the audience as well as the performance of Sgt. Ted Lester who played a variety of miniature musical instruments. Quite a few laughs were forthcoming from the "ladies of the chorus" dance. Pfc. Stanley Salomon mixed a number of imitations with a bit of clever comic performance. Cpl. Bernard Pickoff pleased with his vocal selection, "I Wanna Get Married."

Circus Background

Pfc. Delphus Smith and Cpl. Earl Austin opened the show as peanut men, the production having the background of a circus. The concluding number of the program, "It's the Seventh," was sung by Sgt. Pat Notaro and the entire cast. The entire program was spangled with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the 330th ASP band.

In addition to the individual performers other members of the cast included Sgt. George Thompson, WAC Pvt. Wanda Kyle, Cpl. Edwin Lake, Pvt. Joseph McKee, Pfc.

Admits Theft Of Furniture

Guy Emly, 67, Gardners R. 1, pleaded guilty to burglary charges before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Wednesday, in connection with the theft of furniture and personal property from the home of Sgt. and Mrs. William Ingle, Aspers R. D., June 13.

The burglary took place, according to State Police who investigated, while Sgt. Ingle was overseas and his wife was living with her mother, Mrs. Clayton Guise, Biglerville, R. D. Sgt. Ingle, a carpenter with the Army Air Forces in Hawaii, is still on foreign service, and his wife is working at the American Chain Works, York.

The stolen property has been recovered and partially identified and will be turned over to the rightful owner within a few days, police said.

Emly was committed to the county jail without bail for sentence court.

BASS SEASON OPENS SUNDAY

Harrisburg, Penna., (AP)—The best bass fishing season in years is in prospect for Pennsylvania sportsmen this year with streams in nearly perfect shape.

The state fish commission said today anglers will find the waters throughout the commonwealth heavily stocked with fish and barring storms before Sunday, the season's opening day, plenty of bass should be caught.

Approximately 500,000 hatchery-grown bass were stocked in the rivers, creeks and lakes of the state last year and have had nearly a year in which to grow to good size, the commission added.

"If it's anything like the opening of the trout season," one commission official said, "it will set a record for the number of anglers out."

Statistically nearly 400,000 Pennsylvanians obtain fishing licenses each year and indications so far from issuing agents are that the number is just as high as ever with an increasing number of women taking up the sport.

"Our wardens have observed more women fishing," declared the spokesman, "but we have no way of knowing how many there are."

Returning veterans, fresh from European battlefronts, are also expected to be out casting lines while convalescent or hospitalized soldiers can get licenses free from any of the issuing agents. Residents of Pennsylvania still in the armed forces can obtain the same free licenses from county treasurers.

Capt. Edgar Markley To Resume Practice

Capt. Edgar K. Markley will resume his duties with the law firm of Keith, Bigham and Markley, next week, having received his discharge from the army.

Capt. Markley, who is now on a 45-day terminal leave, entered the service in March, 1941. He was stationed at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., following his induction and was later transferred to the Judge Advocate General's office at Washington, D. C.

Ferdinand Liva and Sgt. Hugh Smith.

A stirring appeal for war bond purchases was made prior to the show by Lt. Jack Stettner, Brooklyn, N. Y., who told of his experiences as a B-24 Liberator pilot while serving 10 months in China.

Prior to the opening of the performance Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, announced the county had met two of the three quotas in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan drive and that he was confident the E Bond quota, of which there is a deficit of $179,322.50 would also be met before the close of the campaign.

County Bond Figures

He announced that the show sold $1,182,225 worth of bonds. On the county bond sales and quota Mr. Thomas gave these figures: Quota, $2,110,000. Total sales, $2,747,355, an oversubscription of $637,355; Corporate quota, $650,000. Sales, $1,353,237.50, an oversubscription of $703,237.50. The attainment is 200 per cent, the same as the state's. Quota for all other types of bonds, except E bonds, to individuals, $760,000. Sales, $873,440, an oversubscription of $113,440, or an attainment of 114 per cent. The state's attainment is 101.7 per cent.

The county has reached 74 per cent of its quota. The state has reached 69.2 per cent and nationally the percentage is 72 per cent.

The use of the theatre was given without charge by Warner Brothers, permission being obtained by Sydney J. Poppay, manager, from A. J. Vanni, zone manager, of Philadelphia.

A stage crew from York arranged scenery and lighting effects. Boy Scouts from Troop 78, under the direction of Martin L. Slade, distributed programs and guarded exit doors.

Girls from Gettysburg high school acted as ushers under the direction of Fred G. Troxell.

Members of the cast and stage workers were guests of the Loyal Order of Moose at dinner at the Battlefield hotel before the show, and were entertained after the performance at the Moose home. Arrangements for the entertainment were made by Charles L. Lauver, lodge secretary.

NAME FIVE TO S.S. CONVENTION

Five delegates were named to the state Sunday School convention at New Castle, in October, by the Adams County Council of Christian Education at its meeting last Friday evening. The delegates are Charles Gentzler, president, Mrs. Russell Stoops, T. J. Winebrenner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bair, of Hanover.

The council met at the YWCA with the Rev. Dr. Ralph Gresh, conducting the devotionals. He said "we must teach the principles to overcome hate to our young people in the Sunday Schools and the church, to share the gospel of Christ with all and that God loves everyone, the white, black and the yellow."

It was announced that two new Sunday Schools opened in the county at East Berlin and Guernsey; that a 10-point program is being prepared for all Sunday Schools and that seven new vacation Bible schools were in operation in the county this year.

600 YOUTHS IN COUNTY TO HELP HARVEST FRUIT

Approximately 600 boys and girls—200 from Gettysburg and 400 from the rest of the county—have done a magnificent job in helping to thin out peaches, their first job since the close of school, M. T. Hartman, county agent said Wednesday. He announced that about 150 more young men and women of high school and college age will be established in camps in the county to aid in the cherry harvest.

Mr. Hartman emphasized that there would be more than enough work for any additional young people from the county who wish to take summer jobs in the orchards and on the farms. He stated that bringing in boys and girls from Blair, Northumberland, Luzerne and Carbon counties as well as 100 Jamaicans to be lodged at Old Forge camp would not lessen the amount of employment available to local youths who are interested.

500 Are Registered

At present more than 500 young people are registered for summer work in the county. The number is augmented by about a hundred or more who are working on their parents' farms, Mr. Hartman said.

The two youth work camps will under the sponsorship of the Emergency Farm Labor Program. One will be at Biglerville for approximately 90 boys and the other at Arendtsville for about 60 girls. Both will be under the direction of William Whitely, principal of the Arendtsville vocational high school. The camps will open July 6 for the cherry harvest and will be in operation approximately two weeks.

FORMER BIGLER RESIDENT FLEES GERMAN PRISON

Flight Officer Pierson Metoxen, formerly of Biglerville, was the subject of a recent broadcast from overseas by Ted Malone for Westinghouse.

Metoxen, a full blooded Indian, worked in Biglerville and resided for some time at the home of the late Arthur E. and Mrs. A. E. Rice. He is a Flight Officer with a glider outfit overseas and was captured by the Germans when his glider was shot up after attempting a difficult landing when it was accidentally cut off from the plane that was towing it. Metoxen later escaped from the Germans.

Excerpts from Mr. Malone's recent broadcast on Metoxen follow:

"I will never forget the experiences of two other glider boys. I doubt, if they will, either. . . Lieutenant Tom McGrath, of Dallas, Texas, and Flight Officer Pierson Metoxen, born up in Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin. Metoxen, 36, is a full-blooded Indian of the Oneida tribe. Before he joined the Army in 1940 he was assistant boys' adviser for the Indian service. He specialized in physical education.

"I asked him how many times he had flown a glider. He thought minute 'Oh, about a thousand, I guess.'"

Biggest Thrill

"The Wesel, Germany, invasion, seemed to combine the troubles of them all and, both McGrath and Metoxen agreed, provided them their biggest adventure."

"On the flight into Germany the plane was cut off from the glider and Metoxen landed in a field surrounded by Germans. He was captured. The Germans then started their prisoners walking to the rear."

"After marching the fellows from Wesel to Frankfurt and then to Nuremberg, the SS tried to make them talk. . . then put them on a train. . . a flight of P-47s came in and strafed the prison train. . . McGrath and Metoxen were locked in their cars with other prisoners but all broke out before the bombers came over."

"Metoxen and McGrath decided to chance an escape. They wandered around the prison yard in the dusk until they could slip into the barracks of some of the slave workers who were remaining, borrowed some clothes from them, stole a pair of wire-cutters, cut their way through the barbed-wire fence around the camp, walked most of the night in what they thought was the direction of the American lines, and then hid in a haystack to wait until the Americans passed them."

"First came the tanks, then armored cars; then they rushed out and found a jeep going back, identified themselves, and rode along. They narrowly escaped injury in a collision, missed a plane, lost the road a dozen times."

Considered Lost

"They reached Rheims, where they had been stationed. . . Seeing a plane from their home base, they went out and asked the pilot for a ride back. He said O.K. as soon as he settled the business he came up on. That was all right with them. How long did he think it would take him? The pilot said he didn't know, that he was there to check on the personal belongings and debts of two fellows from the base who had been lost in the Wesel mission. . . just settling things up, personal affairs."

"What were their names?" "McGrath and Metoxen, two glider pilots. . . and the two fellows just stared at each other, amazed."

FIRST COUNTIAN IN TOKYO RAIDS WOUNDED; GIVEN HIS DISCHARGE

T. Sgt. Lawrence C. Strang, Jr., 20, believed to be the first Adams countian to participate in the bombings of Tokyo, received his discharge from the Army Air Force at Ft. Dix, N. J., last Sunday and is now visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Stoner, who resides at the home of I. W. Riggel, Orttanna.

Strang took part in four missions over Tokyo as a tail-gunner of a B-29 bomber.

Disaster met the Adams countian on his last mission over Iwo Jima, his 43rd, when his ship was struck by Jap fire on March 23. Four of the crew were killed while the ship was in flight and the pilot and co-pilot died as they attempted to get the crippled machine back to its base. Five members of the crew, including Strang, bailed out and landed on Attu, a small island occupied by the British a short distance north of Iwo Jima. The group was rescued by natives and taken to the British who returned them on a hospital ship to Guam from where they were sent back to the United States.

Fractures Ankles
 Strang was wounded in the left shoulder and left side during his final flight and upon parachuting suffered fractures of both ankles on hitting the ground.

The youthful county airman entered the service on August 3, 1943, and trained at Shepherd Field, Texas; Florence, S. C.; Hobbs, N. M.; Fresno, Calif., and Savannah, Ill. He left for overseas duty from Seattle, Wash., in November, 1943.

For three months he served with the Eighth Air Force in England without making any missions. Then he was sent to Anchorage, Alaska, as a member of the 11th Air Force. From there he was sent to Italy where he joined the 15th Air Force and then joined the 20th Air Force on Guam.

Many Awards
 Sgt. Strang has received the Good Conduct ribbon, American Theatre, Asiatic-Pacific Theatre and European Theatre ribbons, Purple Heart, Silver Star, Philippine Liberation ribbon, Service Cross, six battle stars and a presidential unit citation.

A brother, Lt. Cmdr. Burton Luther Strang, is serving with the navy in the Pacific.

Sgt. Strang is a son of Mrs. Sarah E. Strang, Fountaindale, and Lawrence C. Strang, Waynesboro.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
 It has been quite sometime since I last wrote to you but I have not forgotten about you. It is also plainly seen that you have not forgotten me either because I have been getting The Times very regularly and I want to thank you again for making it possible for me to get the home town paper over here in the E. T. O.

Now that the show is over, over here, I suppose the navy will be moving out. We have already started but when we'll leave is not known as yet. The duty of the navy at this particular base was to patrol the Bay of Biscay by patrol bombers. As a matter of fact this is the only naval air base in England although there is plenty of U. S. navy over here. Joseph P. Kennedy, son of the former ambassador to England, was lost or I should say killed in the operations from this base.

Today I am a bit tired after an 810 mile trip by air over France, Belgium and Holland. Some of the main points we visited were Cherbourg, Caen, Dieppe, St. Lo and Dunkirk, of which I think St. Lo was hit the hardest. The whole place was bombed out except one large cathedral standing all by itself in the center of city. The Army air force sure must have been plenty good to hit everything but the cathedral. It can plainly be seen that a great battle was fought at Dunkirk. All along the course was nothing but large bomb craters.

France, Belgium and Holland are all very beautiful countries and I certainly would like to make a trip over here after the war just for pleasure, it would be worth any amount of money. In Holland the people must have had a wash day today because everywhere there were clothes out on the ground drying. They don't seem to have such things as a clothes line.

In Holland the land is really flooded like you hear about and doesn't look like a very nice place to live, well not quite all of it is flooded but the part we flew over was pretty well covered.

The turning point of our trip was Rotterdam and then we were on our way back to England. On the trip back we passed over the White Cliffs of Dover which was quite beautiful. The entire trip lasted seven hours and I can be thankful that we were in a large plane otherwise I might not be feeling well enough to write this letter. After all it was the first time I had ever been up in a plane in my whole lifetime. It wasn't too bad, really.

Now that I'm back safe and sound I will only be too glad to vol-

I'll close this little letter now by thanking you again for sending me the "Times." I would like to say hello to all my friends back there in Gettysburg. Hello everybody! Be seeing you all soon. I hope.

A faithful reader,
 JOSEPH L. BOSAK.

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for sending me the home town paper. It's really swell to know what's going on back home.

I have been transferred from my old outfit. I am now stationed near Donai, France. Had been in Belgium and Holland for a while and liked it up there pretty good. It really rains a lot in Belgium. I don't know when the farmers get any work done.

The homes in Holland are much like our own homes in Pennsylvania. I was really surprised to find Holland such a nice place.

I must close now. Again I wish to thank you for the good service of your paper.

Sincerely yours,
 CPL. WALDO FUNT
